"Best Celtic Festival West of Atlanta!"

Saturday, 13 March

Irish Festivities on 2 floors at the Pub

Keltic Kudzu – Celtic Music 2nd floor (1:30-4:30pm)

The festivities kick-off with one of the most popular Celtic bands in the south-east. Keltic Kudzu offers up plenty of traditional and contemporary Celtic music with a 'Southern accent', as well as a healthy dose of Southern music with a 'Celtic accent'.

The Claddagh School of Irish Dance – Performance (4:30-5:30pm)

Enjoy a live performance by Irish dancers from our local school. Better still, join in, and take your first steps to "River Dance". It promises to create great new memories for all members of the family.

James Stephens – Bagpipe Performance (approx. 5:30pm & 7:30pm)

The star of last year's celebrations returns to the Pub! Having learnt the bagpipes at just 16, James has since played many a Celtic celebration, wowing crowds with his traditional Scottish/Celtic music on the Great Highland Pipes.

The Charms – Celtic Rock Duo 2nd floor (6:00-9:00pm)

This Celtic Rock Duo is as energetic as they come. Ashley (lead vocals/guitar/mandolin) and Eric (fiddle and keyboards) together create a huge sound that spectators cannot believe is only 2 people. Far from traditional, these guys play rock and pop with a Celtic twist – in other words, it is truly Celtic music that "rocks!"

DJ Party (2nd floor) 9:00pm – Close

Finish the night off with a few jigs of your own with DJ
Jason Sparks

Wednesday, 17 March St. Patrick's Day Community Festival

Sgian Dubh – "Alternative" Celtic Band (4:00-6:00pm on the Plaza)
No strangers to the Pub, this alternative-Celtic" band hails from Marietta, Georgia. Mixing acoustic & electric modes, this captivating group plays their own unique take on traditional Irish & Scottish music, with pub favorites, rebel songs Celtic punk, and a few originals to keep things exciting.

The Mulligan School of Irish Dance – Performance (6:00 & 7:30pm)

Dancing with their hearts that flows to their toes, this Dance Group have performed all over Georgia. Two of the Group will be competing at this year's World Championships in Scotland, so we are very excited by their involvement in our St. Patrick's Day celebrations.

Robert Boyd – Bagpipe Performance (approx. 7:00pm & 8:00pm)
Without doubt a special guest – Robert Boyd, whose family originally is from Scotland, has been playing the pipes since he was 10 years old. As a Gr 3 solo piper, Robert has won many solo competitions. Enjoy his performance which guarantees to bring out the Celtic passion in all of us.

Lisdoonvarna – Celtic Music (6:00-9:00pm 2nd floor)

Great friends of the Pub who have played many of our St. Practice Day nights! Named after a little town in County Clare, Lisdoonvarna is a group of 4 folks who love Celtic music in the Tradition of The Clancy Brothers, The Chieftains, and The Irish Rovers, amongst others. Sit back and enjoy a mixture of Irish ballads and rollicking pub songs.

Turnstile – Return to Douglasville!! (7:00-10:30pm on the Plaza)

No Irish Bred Pub festival is the same without these guys. Come early cos you won't be disappointed. This Atlanta based band play a wide variety of music including covers and originals.... something for everyone. Rock 100.5 FM's favorite local band... watch out, they'll blow you away with their talent.

DJ Party (2nd floor) – 9:00pm – Close
